First Client Meeting.

Meeting between Alex and Emma, September 27, 5PM MST

A. Alright, Emma. You told me of the general idea of what you wanted, but could you go into more detail?

E. I want a website where I can publish and share my stuff.,

A. What kind of stuff?

E. Just pictures, videos, some stories I'm writing, that sort of thing. They also have to be able to download other stuff, like PDFs.

A. So you want a blog?

E. Yeah. A blog!

A. So what other features do you want for your blog?

E. I want to create an account system where people can send me messages. I also want to be able to create posts that only certain people can see.

A. Anything else?

E. Nope. I'll let you know if I think of anything else!

Success Criteria - Create a blog with the ability to give specific users the ability to view certain 'posts', and to give the ability to send messages to Emma.
