First Client Meeting.

Meeting between Alex and Emma, September 27, 5PM MST

A. Alright, Emma. You told me of the general idea of what you wanted, but could you go into more detail?

E. I want a website where I can publish and share my stuff.,

A. What kind of stuff?

E. Just pictures, videos, some stories I'm writing, that sort of thing.

A. So you want a blog?

E. Yeah. A blog!

A. So what other features do you want for your blog?

E. I just want the basic functionality. I think that it will just turn into a chat tool with my friends.

A. Anything else?

E. Nope. I'll let you know if I think of anything else!

Second Client Meeting.

Meeting between Alex and Emma, October 17, 4PM MST

A. So here are the initial UI mockups I created. Do you have any suggestions on how to proceed?

E. That looks a bit fancy. Tone down colors; I just want a simple blog or messaging system.

A. Alright. I'll rework that. Anything else?

E. Make it so we can see the whole comment in the parent post. I don't want to click into every link just to see what my friends are saying.

A. Alright. I'll get right on that!

Thrid Client Meeting.

Meeting between Alex and Emma, October 24, 5PM MST

A. So here are the edited UI mockups. Do they look good?

E. They look pretty great for now. Go ahead and start building

A. Alright!
